ABRIDGED CURRICULUM VITAE

I completed my undergraduate studies at The University of Birmingham, UK, and was awarded the Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery degree in 2001. I trained in general psychiatry in Birmingham and achieved Membership of the Royal College of Psychiatrists in 2005. I completed three years of advanced training in forensic psychiatry with Justice Health (NSW), was elected to Fellowship of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists in 2008, and have been awarded the RANZCP Advanced Training Certificate in Forensic Psychiatry.

I currently work in private practice based in Sydney, in medicolegal work (criminal and civil) and providing treatment. I have experience in providing clinical services in a variety of settings, including: The Forensic Hospital; correctional centres; the community; and the NSW Drug Court. I have received formal training in actuarial and clinical risk assessment and management, the preparation of medicolegal psychiatric reports, and the evaluation of permanent impairment (NSW Workcover and MAA). I have experience in providing reports for Local, District and Supreme Court matters, the Family Court, the NSW State Parole Authority, the Serious Offenders Review Council, the Mental Health Review Tribunal, the NSW Drug Court, and the Administrative Appeals Tribunal.

I have published original research in areas of forensic psychiatry and remain actively involved in research. I have presented at psychiatric conferences in Australia and internationally. I am a Conjoint Lecturer, University of New South Wales.
