

Dr Kerri Eagle

Dr Eagle is a Forensic Psychiatrist. She is a fellow of the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists and has been awarded the Certificate in Forensic Psychiatry. She obtained her medical degree at the University of Sydney and undertook her forensic psychiatry training with the Justice and Forensic Mental Health Service in New South Wales. She has been awarded a Master of Psychiatry. Dr Eagle is employed by Justice Health as a Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist and is responsible for patients at the high secure Forensic Hospital in Malabar. She is also employed as a Staff Specialist at Liverpool Hospital and Fairfield Mental Health Service. Dr Eagle has a Bachelor of Laws with Honours and a Master of Laws. She has practised for several years as a solicitor in Queensland and Western Australia. She has published articles on medico-legal issues in national legal and medical journals. She has presented papers at national and international conferences. Dr Eagle is a conjoint associate lecturer in Psychiatry for the University of New South Wales.